1991-92 WOMEN'S BASKETBALL
MEDIA GUIDE

Don't you kids know that life is made up of ordinary days when there's no one to pat you on the back?

When there's no one to praise you?
When there's no one to honor you?
When there's no one to see how brave and noble you are?

Almost all of life is made up of ordinary days.
And it's how you live your ordinary days that determines whether or not you have big moments.

Get out there and make something of your ordinary days.

WRIGHT STATE UNIVERSITY

Welcome to Wright State University! An exciting and expanding metropolitan university, Wright State offers excellent facilities for academics, support programs, recreation, housing and arts activities. Continuing in the innovative spirit of aviation pioneers Orville and Wilbur Wright, our modern architecture is nationally known for being completely accessible to the handicapped through a unique tunnel system. In fact, our 557-acre campus offers something for nearly everyone.

Founded in 1964, Wright State was granted full university status in 1967 and is an accredited, independent state university located in Dayton, Ohio. The university serves over 17,000 students in more than 100 undergraduate majors and 38 graduate majors. Most students commute to Wright State from Dayton and surrounding communities; others live in the residence halls or the university apartments adjacent to the campus.

The university library contains more than 460,000 bound volumes, 940,000 microforms, 200,000 U.S. and Ohio government documents, 4,151 periodical subscriptions and a national map depository with approximately 49,000 geological and topographical maps from all over the United States. The library features special collections of material pertaining to the Wright brothers and James M. Cox, a former governor of Ohio and business leader in newspaper publishing and radio broadcasting.

Wright State offers innovative programs in a variety of fields. The university has a Ph.D. degree program in biomedical sciences, a post-master's educational specialist degree program and the only combined computer science and engineering Ph.D program in the state. Wright State is the only university in Ohio to offer a Doctor of Psychology (Psy.D.) degree. In addition, the university's School of Medicine offers the M.D. degree. Associate and prebaccalaureate degree programs are offered at the Wright State University Lake Campus located near St. Mary's and Celina, Ohio.

Wright State moved from the Division II to the Division I level of competition in the NCAA during the 1987-88 athletic season. This move to the upper echelon of collegiate sports catapulted Wright State's athletic program to the level of the university's nationally recognized academic and research programs.

Basketball is one of seven sports the university sponsors for women, along with seven sports for men. The men's basketball program has been the most successful, winning the NCAA Division II national championship in 1983 and qualifying for postseason play eight times. Wright State's teams were frequently ranked among the top-20 Division II teams in their respective sports. The success has continued at the Division I level.

Academics are stressed in the university's athletic programs, and a full-time academic advisor monitors the progress of each student-athlete. The male and female athletes with the highest grade point averages are honored each year by the Athletic Council.

Financial aid is available for Wright State student-athletes. On-campus housing is also available; interested students are encouraged to apply early. For more information about Wright State University, contact the Office of Admissions, 513/873-2211; the Information Center, 513/873-2310; or the Office of Public Relations, 513/873-3232.

Helpful people, a close relationship with the Dayton community, and enthusiastic spirit are all characteristics of Wright State. As you will find, the university offers opportunities and experiences for people of all ages and interests.

Wright State is an equal opportunity/affirmative action institution.

WRIGHT STATE'S PRESIDENT

Paige E. Mulhollan

Wright State's third president, Paige E. Mulhollan, arrived at the university in 1985 from Arizona State University, where he held the position of executive vice president. He originally served Arizona State University in 1978 as provost, vice president for academic affairs and professor of history. In 1981, Dr. Mulhollan was named executive vice president.

From 1973 to 1978, Dr. Mulhollan was dean of arts and sciences and professor of history at the University of Oklahoma. Before his appointment there, he was associate dean of arts and sciences and associate professor of history for three years at Kansas State University.

In 1966, Dr. Mulhollan earned a Ph.D. degree in history from the University of Texas at Austin. During the 1968-69 school year, he conducted more than 125 oral history interviews relating to the Lyndon B. Johnson Administration and American foreign policy in the 1960s. This material, held under copyright by the National Archives, is currently located in the Johnson Library in Austin, Texas.

Dr. Mulhollan is a consultant-examiner for the North Central Association and a member of many professional and national associations and commissions. He was also selected to represent Division II on the NCAA Presidents Commission. The commission, a 44-member body, provides college presidents the opportunity to have a direct voice in NCAA legislation. Dr. Mulhollan first served on the commission in January 1986 and continued until September 1987, when Wright State jumped to the Division I level.

In addition to his work within the university, Dr. Mulhollan is active in the Dayton metropolitan community. He currently serves on the boards of the Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce, Greater Dayton Public Television, Miami Valley Research Foundation and the Dayton Art Institute.

Dr. Mulhollan maintains an active work schedule, but is adamant on remaining healthy. His practice of lunch-time jogging reflects his belief in the importance of physical and mental fitness. His wife, Mary Bess, has a variety of interests including field botany, bird watching, nature photography and ceramics. Dr. and Mrs. Mulhollan enjoy walking their two golden retrievers and, when time permits, sailing their boat on Lake Erie. Sailing trips to the Caribbean also spark the Mulhollans' interest. Dr. and Mrs. Mulhollan have two sons, ages 32 and 34, and three grandchildren.

OUTLOOK

You have to crawl before you walk.

Every parent knows it. Every basketball coach realizes it. Wright State University women's head basketball coach Terry Hall is all too aware of it.

She came to Wright State last year to resurrect a program coming off a painful 3-25 campaign. With largely the same roster, Hall goaded just one additional victory (4-24) from the squad in her first season. It was a small improvement, but at least the Raiders began to crawl.

In 1991-92, Hall hopes to guide the Raiders through those first crucial steps with a mixture of seasoned upperclass players and youthful, eager newcomers. The Raiders, Hall believes, will make a marked improvement.

"We were in a lot of games last season, but we didn't hold on. In some games, we would pull ahead at halftime and then lose the lead in the second half," Hall said. "We will be much better this year. We'll be deeper and stronger. Our record will be much better than 4-24."

To be a winner, you have to believe you can be successful. That's what Hall thinks—and that's what the Wright State head coach believes her players understand.

"When you lose for a few years as a team, you don't have the feeling that you're able to win," Hall explained. "You must believe you can play—believe you can win. Once you believe, you'll have a better team. And that's what will happen to this team."

One of Hall's main forces will be senior Micki Harris. The 6-2 Harris is known at Wright State for her talents in volleyball, but she joined the basketball team last season and made an impact by averaging 5.7 points and a team-leading 5.7 rebounds per game.

"Micki was in shock for most of last season because she hadn't been bumped around in awhile. She's been working all summer at improving her game," Hall said. "She'll be a force for us this season."

Senior guard Lori Brooks will be looked upon for leadership after pacing the team with an 8.5 scoring average. She was also second in three-point proficiency, hitting 14 of 53 trifectas (26.4 percent). Junior Peggy Yingling, a 6-3 junior center, returns after averaging 6.5 points and 4.6 rebounds per game in an injury-plagued season. Jamie Stump, a 5-10 senior forward, will also play a key role in Wright State's season. Stump averaged 7.2 points and 3.4 rebounds per game last season and led the Raiders in three-point shooting, drilling 18 of 52 treys (34.6 percent).

Sophomore Connie Alig, who contributed 6.1 points and 3.2 rebounds per game as a freshman, will see playing time at both guard spots. Junior Melanie Taylor (3.3 points, 2.5 rebounds per game) and sophomore Melissa Reeves (5.5 points, 4.6 rebounds per game) will vie for action at forward.

Highlighting a list of five newcomers is Jitka van der Bruggen, a 6-0 player who can fill all five positions. Van der Bruggen, the first foreign-born player ever to suit up for the Wright State women's basketball team, played for the Akrides club squad in Holland. "She can play both guard spots and the other three positions," Hall said. "She'll be a real asset for us."

Another one of Hall's bright and promising freshmen is Lori Collins, who possesses a 26-inch vertical leap. Collins, a 5-9 forward, averaged 24.2 points and 10.0 rebounds per game as a senior for Eastern High School in Louisville. Jennifer Brigner, a 5-4 guard, averaged 21.0 points at Bloom-Carroll High School last season. She'll compete for playing time at point guard. Shelly Meadlo will battle for time at both guard spots. The 5-9 freshman averaged 16.7 points and 7.0 rebounds per game at Southport High School in Indianapolis last season. At center, Hall will get a boost from 6-1 Tracy Nixon, whose average was 20.6 points and 8.8 rebounds per game at Jay County High School in Portland, Indiana.

"The team was surprising last year because they were cohesive. Everyone wanted to play, but they always gave each other support—whether they were on the court or not," Hall said. "The five players we've added know how to win and they have their heads on straight. This team will be cohesive this season—nothing will change that."

After opening the campaign at Eastern Kentucky on November 22, two invitational tournaments in December highlight the nonconference schedule before the Raiders begin their second season of North Star Conference competition. Wright State will meet Iowa in the first round of the Mid-America Classic, which will take place on December 6-7. Host Missouri and Austin Peay round out the field. Wright State, Clemson, Wagner and host South Florida are the teams in the South Florida Invitational on December 20-21. The North Star Conference tournament will be held on March 5-7 in DeKalb, Illinois—home of Northern Illinois University. The winner will earn an automatic bid to the NCAA tournament. Next season, North Star Conference teams will be assimilated into the Mid-Continent Conference.

In addition to home-and-home battles with conference members, Wright State will clash with Morehead State, Eastern Illinois, Indiana State and Marshall in nonleague contests. The Raiders will also face in-state foes Xavier, Cincinnati, Miami, Youngstown State and Dayton.

Wright State was picked to finish eighth in the North Star Conference last season, but the Raiders finished sixth in the league with a 3-11 record. Hall thinks Wright State will turn heads this season.

"We lost a couple close games that we could've won. We would've finished fourth in the conference if that had happened," Hall said. "We want to finish in the top four this season. We're out to prove that we're for real."

RAIDER COACHING STAFF

Terry Hall

Head Coach

Second Year

Everywhere Terry Hall has gone, success has followed. That's why the second-year head coach is ready for the challenge of a fresh, new season. She wants to provide a spark for a program that has suffered through three consecutive years of losing.

Last season was Hall's return to the sideline after a three-year coaching rest. The Raiders experienced a dismal 4-24 season in 1990-91, but Hall knows how to direct a winner in Division I.

As the interim head coach at Eastern Kentucky, Hall guided the Colonels to a 14-6 record during the 1974-75 season. The next season, Hall joined Louisville as the first full-time women's basketball head coach at the school. She directed the Cardinals to a 12-11 mark that season—but her teams were 15-7 and 19-9 the following two campaigns. With a 17-17 record, her 1979-80 squad claimed the Metro Conference championship. In five years at Louisville, Hall tallied a 79-54 (.598) mark.

When the 1980-81 season started, Hall found herself at another school in the Bluegrass state—the University of Kentucky. In seven seasons with the Wildcats, Hall inspired her teams to register a collective 138-66 (.676) record. She led UK to records of 25-6, 24-8 and 23-5 during her first three seasons. During her stay with UK, Hall pointed her teams to five NCAA tournament journeys.

Hall earned a bachelor of science in physical education, health and recreation in 1966 from Indiana State University while playing basketball, field hockey and volleyball. She was honored with the prestigious Hillman Award in 1966 as the most outstanding female athlete at ISU. Hall completed her master's degree in education/physical education from Eastern Kentucky in 1975.

During her three-year hiatus from coaching, Hall ran her own basketball scouting service and worked as a stockbroker in Lexington, Kentucky.

Hall still has strong ties to her native Salem, Indiana. Her parents, Henry and Lucille Hall, and her sister, Judy Hall, still live in Salem. Hall's other sister, Mardee McNay, lives in nearby Columbus, Indiana.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Rochelle McKenzie

Assistant Coach First Year

Rochelle McKenzie joined the Wright State women's basketball staff this fall as full-time assistant coach. Her primary duties include recruiting and developing the post players.

McKenzie was the assistant coach at Cleveland State for the past three seasons following a three-year stint in the same position at Cuyahoga Community College in Cleveland.

Originally a Cleveland native, McKenzie, 29, played intercollegiate basketball at Moberly Junior College in Missouri and was inducted into the school's Lady Greyhound Hall of Fame in 1990. She helped guide Moberly to a national runner-up finish in 1981 and then a national title the following year. McKenzie was also a National Junior College Athletic Association first-team All-America selection after the championship season.

Bob Pruett

Assistant Coach Second Year

A member of the Wright State faculty for 17 years, Dr. Robert Pruett made his collegiate coaching debut last season. Although an ardent student of the game, Pruett's lone formal coaching experience before last season came from college summer camps and youth leagues.

Pruett came to Wright State in 1974 as chair of the communication department, a post he occupied for 13 years. Currently the director of the Applied Behavioral Science Program at Wright State, he also holds a spot on the Wright State Athletic Council.

A native of Pana, Illinois, Pruett earned a degree in marketing from Notre Dame in 1960. He obtained a master's degree in speech from Northern Illinois in 1963 and a Ph.D. from Bowling Green in 1970. Pruett has teaching experience at Georgia and Wisconsin.

Since athletic director Michael J. Cusack arrived on campus in April 1982, the Wright State University athletic program has steadily progressed up the ladder.

When Cusack took the athletic director's position at Wright State after holding the same post at Mercyhurst, the Raiders competed at the NCAA Division II level. In 1991, Wright State's transition to Division I was completed when the university became a member of the Mid-Continent Conference in men's athletics.

In 1989, two years after becoming an NCAA Division I member, the Wright State women's athletic program joined the North Star Conference. Members of the North Star Conference will join the Mid-Continent Conference beginning the 1992-93 season.

Last season was Wright State's first in the new Ervin J. Nutter Center, where the university's athletic department is also located. In addition to assisting with the design of the athletic components of the building, Cusack formed the Director's Club, a committee of prominent business and community leaders who sold premium seats in the new arena. Cusack's idea helped generate the sale of approximately 1,500 premium-seat packages. Cusack also formed the Athletic Director's Club to generate scholarship monies.

Pioneering successful ideas is not new to Cusack. One of his first projects at Wright State was the formation of the Pacesetter Club, whose goal is to raise money for the department for operating funds and grants-in-aid. The Pacesetters also form the nucleus of support at home basketball contests. They enjoy special parking privileges and have the use of the Berry Room for halftime and post-game purposes. Another project engineered by Cusack was the addition of 600 theatre-type seats in the Physical Education Building, where Wright State played its home games before moving to the Nutter Center. The seats were occupied primarily for season ticket holders and gave the building a prestigious look.

In 1986, Cusack helped design and unveil Rowdy Raider, the university's first official mascot. Rowdy Raider appears on clothing, athletic letterheads and spirit items.

Under Cusack's leadership, Wright State continues to present a well-rounded athletic program. Golf and cross country were reinstated to varsity status in 1984. The university has seven varsity sports for men and seven for women. The student-athlete concept has prospered at Wright State because of Cusack. He hired an academic advisor for the program, and he stresses to his coaching staff the importance of success in the classroom for players. He also instituted a drug education and testing program designed to help diagnose and rehabilitate potential drug abusers. In addition, Cusack designed a community awareness program that carries a "Say No to Drugs" message to area youth.

Success has been no stranger to Wright State's athletic programs since Cusack's arrival. The native of Levittown, New York, helped make Wright State one of the most heralded Division II programs in the country. The men's basketball team won the Division II national championship less than a year after he took over as director of athletics. After that, the Raiders made two Division II regional appearances, including the 1986 tournament that Wright State hosted. Since joining Division I, the Raiders worst record was 16-11. In the 1989-90 season, Wright State had the best record among major independents. The wrestling squad and men's and women's swim teams have all made appearances in the Top 10 at the Division II championships. The baseball team has made three Division II regional tournament appearances, including a 1987 second place finish at the College World Series. Also in 1987, the women's basketball program earned its first NCAA regional tournament trip, and the golf team was selected to the NCAA championships four years after the sport was reinstated to varsity status. Last spring, golf became the first sport at Wright State to earn an NCAA Division I post-season bid.

Before arriving at Wright State, Cusack spent four years at Mercyhurst College in Erie, Pennsylvania. While there, Cusack guided the school from NAIA status to NCAA Division II membership. He also headed a project in 1981 to add a Division III intercollegiate football program. In its first year, the project sold more than 700 season tickets.

In addition to his duties as athletic director, Cusack coached the Mercyhurst baseball team. He developed the program to a competitive level and had his best season in 1978 when the Lakers reached the finals of the NAIA District 18 playoffs. His four-year coaching record was 85-56.

Cusack earned his bachelor of science degree in physical education from Long Island University in 1964. He received a master of science degree in physical education from Queens College in 1969 and an Ed.D. degree from New York University in administration of physical education and athletics in 1980.

Following graduation in 1969, Cusack spent nine years at Queens College as a member of the physical education faculty. He served as the head baseball coach, assistant basketball coach and assistant athletic director. His baseball teams had a combined record of 65-27 and appeared in postseason tournaments each year. Cusack was inducted into the Athletic Hall of Fame at Queens in December 1986.

Cusack and his wife, Dorothy, live in Beavercreek. The couple has five children: Michael, 25; David, 23; Jennifer, 22; Kristen, 21; and George, 16. They have two grandchildren.

DAYTON

An eminent, metropolitan university, Wright State is proud to be named after Dayton's most famous sons, the Wright brothers. Other prominent Daytonians include John Patterson, who founded the National Cash Register Company, and Charles F. Kettering, whose inventions helped General Motors become one of the world's largest operations.

The wealth of business, industry and research organizations in and around Dayton offers special advantages to Wright State students. In addition to four Fortune 500 companies who call Dayton home, several divisions of GM and Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, one of the country's major air force bases, are also located in Dayton.

The Dayton area offers endless opportunities for recreation and enjoyment: the Air Force Museum, the Dayton Museum of Natural History, Carillon Park, symphonies, opera, ballet, summer theater and live entertainment. Dayton is also the home of the Dynamo, a professional indoor soccer team; the Wings, who compete in the fast-paced World Basketball League; and the Bombers, a minor league hockey team.

Ranked 52 in the nation's television media market, Dayton is just a one-hour drive from Cincinnati, where you can enjoy the excitement of the Major League Baseball Reds and the National Football League Bengals.

Students have easy access to the many cultural and recreational activities offered in the Miami Valley—many of which are held at Wright State's Ervin J. Nutter Center. The Wright State campus is located 15 minutes from downtown Dayton, the center of a metropolitan area with a population of nearly one million.

MEDIA INFORMATION

This media guide is designed to assist your coverage of the Wright State University women's basketball team. Additional information can be obtained by contacting the sports information office at 513/873-2771.

Credentials: Season credentials for men's and women's basketball will be available to the local beat reporters and columnists, as well as to the local television stations, prior to the opening game. Season passes are also available to the local newspaper photographers. Game-by-game credentials should be requested at least three days in advance and will be held at the Will Call window at the Nutter Center box office.

Parking: Season parking passes will also be available for the local media before the opener. Press parking is in a designated area behind the building. Parking requests for an individual game should be made as far in advance as possible.

Photographers: Still photographers are limited to working the endlines of the court. Video camera operators may also use the endlines or shoot from the concourse level behind the endlines. Visiting teams may shoot video from the platforms near midcourt but must alert the sports information office beforehand. Team videographers will not be allowed on platforms during games televised locally, but the concourse is available for use, or the television center can provide a video tape of the game if a blank tape is provided in advance.

Radio: Permission to broadcast games from the Ervin J. Nutter Center must be granted by the sports information office. A phone line is available along press row for the official station of the visiting team at a cost of $50 per game. A reciprocal agreement may also be arranged. Unless specified otherwise, space on press row will be allocated for a broadcast crew of two.

Television: All requests for televising Wright State basketball games should be directed to Dr. Michael J. Cusack, director of athletics.

Press Room: A press room is located on the court level just outside the open end of the horseshoe-shaped arena. Counter space and phone lines are available for writers.

Services: Programs and season statistics will be available to the media prior to each game. Visiting teams will also be encouraged to distribute their information to the press. A complete NCAA box score and play-by-play will be distributed following the contest. Halftime box scores will be available at intermission.

FAX: A FAX machine is available for use by the media and by visiting teams as requested. The FAX machine is located on the third floor in the sports information office.

Interview Policy: Coach Hall conducts open practices and media members are permitted to observe. Practice time is routinely from 1 to 3 pm and interviews may be requested of the players or coaches before or after those times. Press members should not solicit interviews during practice time or during the day of a game. The sports information office will set up interviews with players, if requested two or three days in advance. To speak with Hall, contact the basketball office at 513/873-2771. A good time to reach Hall is between 10 am and noon.

Postgame Interviews: Following an NCAA-recommended "cooling off" period of 10 minutes, Hall will be available for the media. If demand warrants, Wright State players and the opposing coach will also be brought to the media for interviews. It is up to the discretion of the visiting coach to make opposing team members available.

Sports Information Personnel: Christopher Bame recently joined the staff as sports information director. He is assisted by the following students: Mindy Bishop, Jim Browning, Jeri McIntosh, Dave Guenther and Fern Ratchford.

THE ERVIN J. NUTTER CENTER

In the fall of 1990, the entire Wright State University athletic department moved into a shining, new multi-purpose facility—the Ervin J. Nutter Center, a state-of-the-art sports and entertainment complex that seats 10,632 for basketball.

In addition to hosting intercollegiate athletic events, the arena hosts convocations and concerts. Impressive amenities include 14 corporate boxes overlooking both sides of the court. Each box provides seating for 12, private restrooms, closed-circuit television and wet bar capabilities. The John W. Berry, Sr., Room overlooks the endline of the court and serves as the headquarters of the Pacesetter Club on game nights. The C. J. McLin, Jr., Gymnasium provides additional playing floors for athletic practices and facilities for physical education instruction and recreational activities. The McLin Gym also hosts athletic events requiring less than 500 seats.

Along with holding the intercollegiate athletic offices, the Nutter Center also houses the team locker rooms and training facilities, and the offices and programs of the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. Educational facilities for general use by students, faculty, staff, alumni and the community are also provided. A highly visible site is where the center is located—at the corner of Colonel Glenn Highway and North Fairfield Road, right off I-675.

Funding for the center came from a $4 million appropriation from the State of Ohio and a $1.5 million donation from Ervin J. Nutter, an area business leader and former member of the Wright State Board of Trustees. Also, an increase in student fees permitted bond financing of the sports/students activities complex. In addition, the Director's Club, a committee of community business leaders, sold premium seat packages in the new arena.

Construction began on March 14, 1989, with the Shook Building Group as the general contractor on the project. KZF Inc., an architectural firm from Cincinnati, led the project design. Assisting with the design was Hellmuth, Obata and Kassabaum's (HOK) Sports Facility Group, the only architectural firm in the country whose practice is devoted solely to the programming, design and development of athletic facilities. HOK has been involved with the development of the Truman Sports Complex in Kansas City, Giants Stadium, the Silverdome, the Hoosier Dome/Indiana Convention Center and Joe Robbie Stadium in Miami. Ogden Allied Entertainment Services is the private management company for the Nutter Center.
